

The Institute of Economic Research of the Slovak Academy of Sciences seeks an experienced researcher to complement its research portfolio

The Institute of Economic Research of the Slovak Academy of Sciences (IER SAS) is looking for an experienced researcher with a strong publication record in the field of economic research. The candidate should meet or be close to the criteria applied for a professor in economics (18 articles and 250 citations in Web of Science). The profile of the candidates will be assessed comprehensively, based on the quality of their outputs, so that they fit both personally and thematically into the portfolio of activities of the Institute. Selected candidates might be invited to present their work at the research seminar of IER SAS.

Job tasks:

- conducting research independently within her/his research focus,
- leading research projects and teams within her/his research area,
- supervising PhD students and active participation in the organisation of doctoral studies in the EU SAS doctoral fields of study. (<https://ekonom.sav.sk/sk-onas/doktorandske-studium>)

What do we offer:

- flexible working hours with the possibility of combining with remote work (partially remote, some attendance required),
- participation in expert work for the private and public sector,
- working in a stimulating intellectual environment.

Remuneration:

- Fixed salary according to the current criteria for remuneration of scientists in Slovakia, taking into account qualifications and years of experience (approx. EUR 1 660 per month gross),
- a variable salary component depending on the quality and intensity of publication activity and involvement in project activities.

IER SAS is one of the most well-esteemed economic research institutes in Slovakia. It shelters an exhaustive list of prominent researchers. It hosts a number of leading figures in Slovak economic research. It offers an environment stimulating the professional growth of researchers, with opportunities for intensive involvement in applied research projects in the fields of economic policy.
